Mrs. Harry E. Curran of New York is visiting here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Short of Furness street.

Judge W. Foster Woodward held a session of the town court, Tuesday morning. On an intoxication charge, Geo. Sullivan was fined $1 and costs, which he paid.

Mrs. Emily Warren, 88, died Monday at the home of her niece, Mrs. Ida Page, 27 Maple street. Mrs. Warren formerly was of Eastford. She was the widow of Edmund Warren and was born in Montpelier, Vt., in 1830. Mrs. Warren lived for many years in her life in Eastford, but has been making her home with Mrs. Page for the past eight years. She leaves no children.

Miss Dorothy St. Onge, of Providence, and Miss Clara Sullivan, of Norwich, guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kennedy, of Furness street.

Fans are looking forward with interest to a series of games to be played between the Connecticut Mills team of Danielson and the Goodyear Mills team, of the latest baseball teams in this part of New England.

Mrs. Joseph Bousquet, Mrs. Honore Marrotte and children and Miss Blanche Bousquet left Tuesday for a stay at Oakland Beach.

Messages received here from C Company in camp at Natick indicate that the organization is now in the full swing of the encampment programme, which is an entirely new experience to the majority of members of the company.

Postmaster Raymond Allen's report covering the business of the year ending July 1, shows a remarkable increase in the volume of transactions at the Danielson office, the money order business being in excess of $100,000.

This week has brought no sign of resumption of activity in the woolen and worsted plants in Killingly and immediate vicinity, but there seems to be a spirit of confidence among the mill men that conditions are brightening and that things will be booming again in the not distant future.

At the Sacred Heart church in Wauregan, Tuesday morning, Rev. J. C. Mathieu was celebrant of a requiem mass at the funeral services for Miss Angelina LeClair, who died Sunday in hospital at Providence. Burial was in the Sacred Heart cemetery. Father Mathieu reading a committal service at the grave. The bearers were Antoine Pelouquin, Louis Pelouquin, Joseph Doyan and George LeBeau. Martin T. Burns was the funeral director. Miss LeClair, who was 23 years of age and a native of East Providence, was a daughter of Mrs. Justine LeClair of Wauregan.

A considerable force of men is engaged in remodeling and renovating the mill street plant of the Connecticut Mills company, recently taken over from the Danielson Cotton company. The reconstruction programme that has been undertaken is of broad scope and when it is completed the plant will be in first class condition. All of the machinery that formerly was included in the equipment of the big plant, excepting some looms that are on one floor and sold to another manufacturer here, has been removed. The great floor space of the plant is now more apparent than ever, bare as the place is of equipment.

From the basement to the roof reconstruction work is going on. Old floors are being ripped up and will be replaced by new. Steel I-beams are being set in place across the mill and under the roof of three stories to give additional stability to the structure. Painters, carpenters, electricians, bricklayers and other craftsmen are busy as bees with a multiplicity of tasks that will eventually bring the big plant into the condition that is desired.

PUTNAM

At the camp of the Putnam troop of the Boy Scouts, in Bates Grove, on the south shore of Webster lake, there are this year eighteen boys, or six less than last year. Most are Henry Broussard, Teddy Broussard, Martin Ames, Harold Kenney, James Kenney, Chandler Morse, Allen Thayer, Ellsworth Sabin, Arthur Fink, Louis Lusier, Jerome Andrews, Leon Wilson, Gerald Marcy, Herbert Clark, Henry Hawkins, Edward Keefe, Franklin Perry, and Alfred Montville. Sidney Hayward and LeRoy Ames are expected to spend part of the next two weeks at camp. Several of the boys went up Saturday to put up the tents and get the grounds in good condition, and the scoutmaster, Rev. S. C. S. M. McKay. The schedule for the day is as follows: 6 a. m. call; 6:15 morning dip; 6:30, reveille; 6:45, roll call; 7-7:30, breakfast; 7:30-8, patrol duties; 8-10, instruction and study in scoutcraft; 9-11, athletics; 11-11:45, swimming; 12-1, dinner; 1-3, rest period; 3-4, hikes; 4-5, swimming; 5:30, retreat; 6, supper; 7-8, free period; 8-9, camp fire; 9-9:15, tattoo; 9:20, taps.

There are six sleeping tents, the scoutmaster's tent, supply tent, and cook tent, bunched on the pine needles on the top of a steep bank sloping to the lake. The boys do their own cooking, and the food reminds one of the army. There is a store near the camp where the boys get rid of their hard-earned money on candy and soda.

Keating of Williamsville who had planned to be in attendance to represent his post, was not able to get to Putnam. The three posts that were represented were unanimous in desiring to hold the field day, and all expressed themselves as willing to cooperate with the Putnam post in making the day a success.

The first question that the delegates discussed after deciding that some sort of a get-together should be arranged, was the nature of the program. Two plans were suggested, one calling for a strictly athletic program, with water sports, baseball, and track events. The other plan was to make the day more of a social assembly, and to make the contests secondary to a clam bake and picnic.

Mark F. Kiebert, chairman of the entertainment committee of the Putnam post, stated that Arthur D. Lown of the Manhasset company, Putnam, had expressed himself as willing, provided the legion voted to hold a field day in Putnam, to construct a half mile track in the Manhasset village, and to see that the field for dashes and other running races was measured for the posts. He also offered the use of the Manhasset hall ground for either morning or afternoon should it be desired to arrange a ball game between teams representing the posts. The delegates from Grovesendale suggested that should the matter be limited to an athletic contest the athletic grounds of the Grovesendale company would be a suitable place to run off the events. Archibald Macdonald of the legion voted to address the meeting and stated that he felt certain that if the day was made a social day, with a clam bake and shore dinner to which members of the four posts in the county might bring their friends and families, its appeal would be greater and larger attendance assured. This plan was finally decided upon by all of the posts, and Alexander's lake voted as the most suitable place for holding the event.

The entertainment committee of the Putnam post was given power to make arrangements in connection with committees to be appointed from the other posts. On this committee are Mark F. Kiebert, Jacob Albert, Kenneth C. Sharpe, Zephron Bergeron, F. T. Wilson and John L. Wright. The Danielson and Grovesendale posts are to hold meetings this week and will appoint their committees at that time.

At this same meeting of the legion three delegates and three alternates to the state convention of the legion were elected. The delegates representing Putnam will be Dr. Edward P. Perry, post commander, Attorney Archibald Macdonald and Malcolm M. Wiley. The alternates will be C. A. Ryan, Mark F. Kiebert and Gilbert Perry. The convention is to be held in Bridgeport Friday and Saturday, Aug. 20 and 21. It is planned to have the Putnam delegation join the Grovesendale and Danielson representatives, and all make the trip in a body. The delegates will go to Bridgeport by automobile.

The women's branch of the Chicago police force appears to be a sure road to matrimony. During the last year the Windy City has lost six of its policemen through marriage.
